My Journey with Giada Valenti

“ DONNA SOUSA ”

Almost a Decade

of Friendship and Collaboration Our story began almost a decade ago at a touching tribute event in Stonington, Connecticut. The occasion was the annual memorial event for Sergio Franchi, the legendary international singing sensation, hosted by his widow Ava Franchi and promoted by Foxwoods Casino.

It was here that I first met Giada Valenti, not knowing this encounter would blossom into years of collaboration and friendship. As a hair and makeup artist, I had the privilege of working with Giada that day, and we instantly connected. What started as a professional relationship soon evolved into a friendship maintained through social media exchanges and regular communication.

Our collaboration deepened when received an invitation to New York City to style Giada for her annual Christmas concert.

experience was magical, and our connection grew stronger.

This led to another significant project in New York - preparing her for a major conference where singing talents showcase their work to secure bookings across the country.

Over the years, our professional relationship has expanded beyond hair and makeup.

I've taken on the role of wardrobe stylist, connecting Giada with international designers who have provided stunning ensembles for her performances.

Our work together has taken us across the United States - from the bright lights of Las Vegas to the prestigious stage of the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, and the glamorous scenes of Los Angeles.

However, one of our most memorable collaborations took place in Giada's native Italy. Last year, we reunited in Venice for an extraordinary photo shoot. The city's romantic bridges became our backdrop as we captured Giada's essence against the timeless Venetian landscape. We traversed the Venetian lagoon on a friend's boat, exploring the colorful islands of Murano and Burano, creating both stunning content and unforgettable memories. Giada's talent extends far beyond her captivating performances. She's shared the stage with Andrea Bocelli and has established herself as a major recording artist and songwriter. Her versatility shines through in her work in Nashville, where she collaborates with top country performers and songwriters.

Looking ahead, we have numerous exciting projects on the horizon. But beyond the professional achievements and glamorous events, what I treasure most is being able to call this extraordinarily talented artist my friend. Watching Giada's career flourish while maintaining her genuine, warm personality has been one of the most rewarding aspects of our decade-long journey together.

From that first meeting in Connecticut to our adventures in Venice and beyond, each moment has contributed to a beautiful friendship that continues to grow. As her hair and makeup artist, wardrobe stylist, and most importantly, friend, I look forward to many more years of collaboration and shared experiences with this remarkable performer.

Revolutionizing the Beauty Industry with 7 Simple Ingredients from Nature: 100% Non-Toxic Voodoo Makeup, an award-winning brand recognized by Forbes Magazine as one of the most promising upcoming companies, has quickly risen to prominence in the beauty industry. With its products now launched in TJ Maxx and Marshalls, and major retail partnerships on the horizon, the brand is redefining clean beauty. Born from a passion for clean beauty and a mission to change the industry, medical esthetician and celebrity makeup artist Aimée Carr saw a major gap in the market—many so-called "clean beauty" products still contained harmful toxins, allergens, and unnecessary chemicals. Carr's personal health struggles, stemming from a black mold infestation, inspired her to eliminate allergens and mycotoxins from her diet and, ultimately, her makeup formulations. Determined to create a truly clean and high-performance makeup line, Aimée focused on developing formulas that were not only safe but also met the professional standards needed for photoshoots, red carpets, and everyday wear. Her breakthrough? A makeup line completely free of mycotoxins, harmful compounds naturally produced by certain fungi that can contaminate food, spices, and even natural beauty ingredients. While many brands market their products as "clean," Voodoo Makeup takes it a step further—ensuring every product is safe for even the most sensitive skin. The result? Makeup that merges beauty and skincare, delivering rich pigments, buildable coverage, and lightweight textures without the hidden risks of traditional cosmetics. With its roots in the French Quarter of New Orleans, Voodoo Makeup embodies a bold, playful, and transformative spirit. It's makeup that not only enhances your beauty but also nurtures and protects your skin. Because at the end of the day, true beauty should never come at the cost of your health. Welcome to the future of clean beauty—where there's clean, and then there's Voodoo Clean.

HERMES INOCENCIO

“THE KING OF PRINTS”

The Rio de Janeiro fashion designer from the mountainous region of Rio has wanted to stand out since he created his brand over 25 years ago.

So he saw in prints and vibrant colors the identity he wanted in his clothes.

In the beginning, many did not understand the idea and thought that profusion of colors and prints was "tacky". So much so that one of the first productions for TV was for the costumes of Agostinho from the TV series Grande Família.

But contrary to what they thought, the brand became popular with several celebrities and other productions were made for TV, theater and cinema.

Today, international celebrities such as Carlton Wilbord, Madonna's choreographer and the famous stiletto dancer Yannis Marshal and also, the well-known Christian Louboutin, have fallen in love with the designer's productions.

HERMES INOCENCIO

“THE KING OF PRINTS”

Hermes Inocência - Professional Background Originally from the mountainous region of Rio de Janeiro, he is a fashion designer, creator and creator of the brand that bears his name, which has become a reference for its bold and eclectic style when it comes to men's fashion in the city.

Since he was young, the artist has been interested in sewing, creating his own models, always experimenting with the combination of colors and fabrics. After a brief career as a model, he decided to use his name as a brand, where, encouraged by people close to him, he decided to invest in his creations signed with his surname (Inocencio), inherited from his Italian grandfather. In 1994, the Hermes Inocencio brand was created, launched as the big news at the Bazar Chique in the South Zone of Rio, at Galeria Café (Ipanema), where it remained for 18 years until its closure in 2018.

During this period, it also passed through Mercado Mundo Mix, Babilônia Feira Hype, among other well-known fashion fairs, frequented by opinion makers and cool young people, and it did not take long to fall into the graces of artists and personalities, having among its main names: ALEXANDRE NERO, TONI GARRIDO, CLAUDIO LINS, SERGIO MENEZES, THIAGO MENDONÇA, ALEX REIS, MARCUS TARDIN, SONIA BRAGA, THIAGO THOMÉ, ALEX BRASIL, ROBERTO BIRINDELLI, BUKASSA KABENGELE, SIDNEI SAMPAIO, as well as soccer players, such as the former Argentine star CANIGGIA, who He always visits his store whenever he comes to Brazil, just to name a few big names who value his work.

In addition, in recent years, the designer has been attracting the interest of designers who are in tune with fashion outside the norm, who follow his cuts and trends; his clothes have been used in several theater, film and TV productions, who look to his style for costume compositions for various successful artistic products in Brazil and abroad. Hermes Inocencio has participated in several fashion competitions, standing out in Moda Mundi, where he was one of the finalists in the men's fashion category.

In 2014, he was accepted into MIAMI FASHION WEEK, but was unable to participate because he was opening his first store in Ipanema, now completing 9 years of absolute success in the heart of Rio's fashion scene.

My name is Merlin Sen

I am 16 years old, live in the Netherlands and am still studying high school.

My journey to become a model and make it my professional profession started about 4 years ago. When my parents allowed me to use a mobile phone as a little girl, I created an Instagram account and then started looking for a good photographer.

This is how I came across Mr. Tjeerd Doosje @studiotjeerd (<https://www.studiotjeerd.nl>) on social media and I asked my parents if they wanted to contact him and make an appointment for my first photo shoot.

It was very exciting and I was very shy, but Mr. Tjeerd guided me well and professionally, which resulted in a beautiful series of first portrait photos that also won many international prizes. I am so grateful and proud of our collaboration.

So far I have entered photo competitions all over the world and my photos have been featured in galleries including Milan, Barcelona, Paris, Turin and other countries, thanks to Studio Tjeerd.

We have been published together in many fashion and beauty magazines and also in art magazines with beautiful photos by @studiotjeerd. Through galleries and Mr. Tjeerd I have also been seen a few times on billboards on Times Square in New York.

Our photos can currently be seen through Mr. Tjeerd in Dubai during World Art Dubai 2024 and for a whole year in a photo gallery in Paris.

I am so proud of our collaboration with Mr. Tjeerd Doosje.

We have achieved so much together and we will continue.

Our collaboration is based on trust in each other and discipline, thanks to @studiotjeerd I have learned a lot. I am so grateful that we have done so much and achieved so much together.

What's nice to know is that we also share a birthday on the same date, April 8, which is also so special. Thank you for allowing us to be published in your beautiful magazine.

Our CV has now become a comprehensive one within the relatively short time of more than four years.

MERLIN SEN

The regular photographer of Merlin Sen, an emerging and promising model from the Netherlands.

I am the owner of Studio Tjeerd based in the Netherlands.

Our collaboration started in October 2020 after Merlin approached me via Instagram.

After the first photo shoot there turned out to be a good connection between us and I tried to bring Merlin to international attention through my channels.

It is a privilege to be able to guide her in her journey from an insecure young girl, through puberty, to the beautiful, young adult woman she will become, where her trademark is her special blue eyes in combination with her naturally brown hair: one of the seven beauties.

There is a nice link to her multicultural background with parents of Polish and Turkish descent.

It is not without reason that she (regularly) uses the Turkish eye in posts, also known as the "blue eye" or "eye of Horus": an amulet of Turkish origin that has been used for centuries as a symbol of protection and good luck.

Merlin as a model is easy-going to work with, one of the requirements if you want to get far in the modeling world.

She picks up things quickly and knows how to captivate the viewer in our photos, literally and figuratively, with her blue eyes, body language and expression.

I hope to be able to work with her for a long time and to make a small contribution to her further development into a top model.

My goal is to work with her to continually create new and surprising images, such as those that appear in this magazine, and that highlight her versatility; that these images literally catch the eye in the endless series of photos that are displayed on a feed every day and hold the viewer's attention just a little longer than average.

You never take photos alone, but they are always the product of a collaboration in which the sum of the parts is more than the individual parts and in that respect I would also like to mention the extremely important role that her mother in particular plays in supporting Merlin.

The effort, time and boundless energy that parents invest is also one of the requirements to get far in the modeling world and is too often underestimated or taken for granted. Merlin's mother in particular provides this support with heart and soul and is, in our collaboration, invaluable.
